The Trips Regime of Patent Rights: Nuno Pires de Carvalho, 2010 (3rd Edition)

The World Trade Organization (WTO) Agreement on Trade Related Aspects of Intellectual Property Rights (TRIPS) to a large extent incorporates and/or supersedes all previous international conventions on intellectual property rights. It provides, therefore, for a general and mandatory framework worldwide for the protection and enforcement of those rights. For this reason, the TRIPS Agreement has a direct impact on the daily life of corporations, governments and consumers. This book with the authoritative stamp of an experienced international functionary in the field—formerly with the WTO and currently with the Secretariat of the World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO)—contains a very practical explanation of the meaning of the patent-related TRIPS provisions, of how they should be reflected in national law and how courts are expected to enforce them. Among the complex questions the book answers in depth are the following:

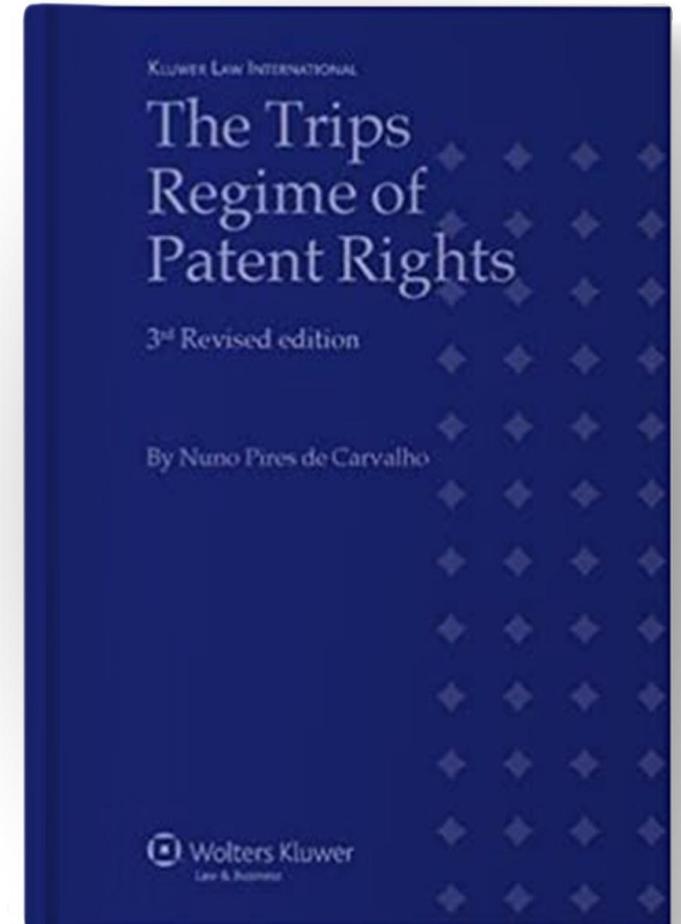

How do the Paris Convention and the TRIPS Agreement interact?

What is the relationship between the Convention on Biological Diversity and the TRIPS Agreement?

Can a WTO Member require the disclosure of the origin of genetic resources in patent applications as a condition of patentability?

Was the Decision of the WTO General Council of August 30, 2003, on the implementation of paragraph 6 of the Doha Declaration on the TRIPS Agreement and Public Health really necessary? How can developing countries implement that Decision?

What are the obligations of WTO Members as regards the protection of test data under Article 39.3? For these reasons and more, the second edition of The TRIPS Regime of Patent Rights is a crucially important resource for lawyers interested in compliance and government officials charged with the implementation of TRIPS obligations.

The TRIPS Regime of Patents and Test Data: Nuno Pires de Carvalho, 2017 (5th Edition)

The TRIPS Regime of Patents and Test Data: Nuno Pires de Carvalho, 2017 (5th Edition)

The TRIPS Regime of Patents and Test Data provides the best practical commentary on the TRIPS Agreement related to patents and test data. This fifth edition, in which the author has revised the entire text and updated various arguments, continues to articulate with unmatched clarity the specific steps that a government or a company must take, in a wide variety of possible contexts, to ensure that its patent-related obligations under TRIPS are met. This book is presented in an article-by-article format, following the TRIPS Agreement itself as it relates to patents and test data. In this way, the author's incisive analysis covers every issue likely to arise in today's patent and test data administrative and legal practice.

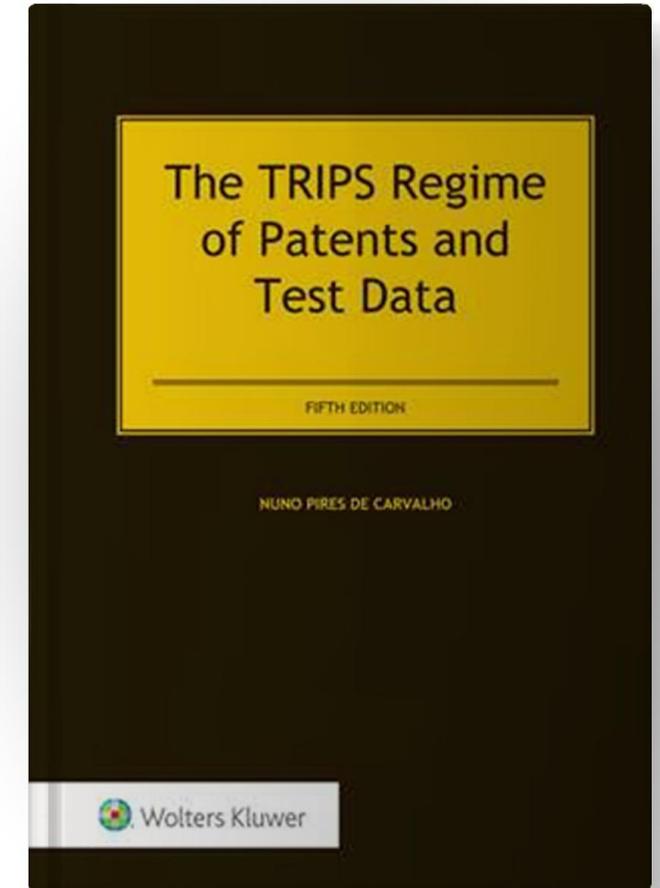

What's in this book:

This pre-eminent work covers areas such as the following:

- the significance of the recent entry into force of Article 31*bis*;
- recent developments in the enforcement of patent rights in the context of competition law;
- the potential effects of Brexit and the new protectionist inclination of US trade policy;
- expanded commentary on trade secrets and test data under Article 39;
- alternate ways (the so-called flexibilities) to transpose TRIPS obligations into national law; and
- the use of standards of intellectual property protection as a bargaining chip in international trade and their impact on public policies.

How this will help you:

This book contains a practical explanation of the patent-related TRIPS provisions, how they should be reflected in national law, and how courts are expected to enforce them. As the TRIPS Agreement has a direct impact on the daily activities of corporations, governments, and consumers, this book serves as a handbook for practitioners to understand the multilateral scenario concerning the protection of inventions and test data, with a natural repercussion on national legal regimes. For these reasons and more, this fifth edition is a crucially important resource for patent and public health lawyers seeking compliance as well as for government officials charged with the implementation of TRIPS obligations.

The TRIPS Regime of Trademarks and Designs: Nuno Pires de Carvalho, 2018 (Fourth Edition)

The TRIPS Regime of Trademarks and Designs in this fourth edition brings the author's prodigious analysis of case law, dispute settlements, ongoing scholarship and other pertinent developments fully up to date. Recognized since its first edition as the preeminent work on its subject, this incomparable book thoroughly and expertly examines the intricacies of the provisions concerning trademarks and industrial designs enshrined in the Agreement on Trade-Related Aspects of Intellectual Property Rights (the TRIPS Agreement). It is organized as a paragraph-by-paragraph annotated text of the Agreement, with detailed commentary not only on the articles specifically dealing with industrial property but also on every clause in the agreement that could affect the protection of trademarks and/or designs.

What's in this book:

With the authority and in-depth experience of a former long-time WIPO official with unparalleled knowledge and discussion of WTO Members' practices in implementing TRIPS provisions, Nuno Pires de Carvalho brings his practical insight and vast scholarship to such complex questions as the following:

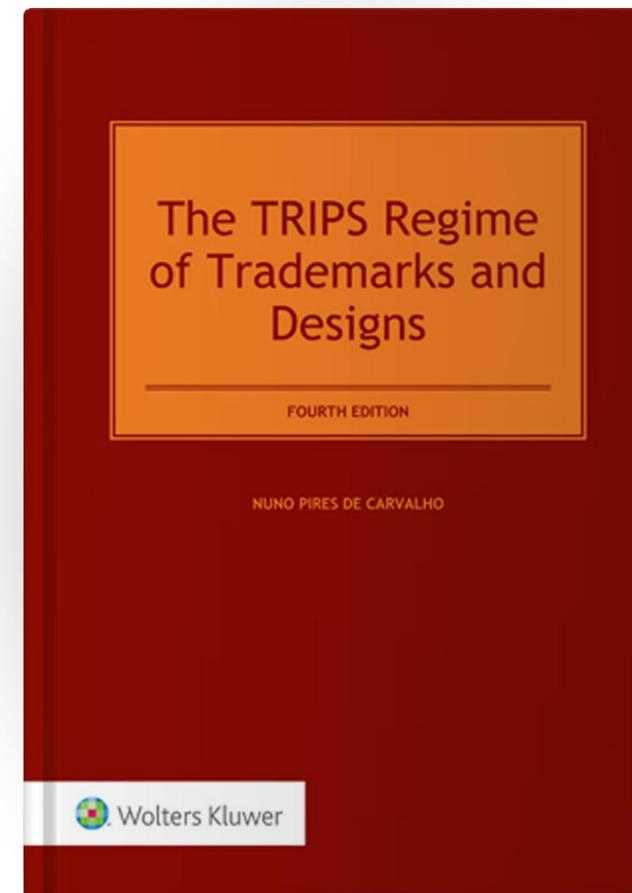

- What are signs that can constitute trademarks? Which elements assist in identifying a well-known mark?
- What are the limitations on the protection of nonvisually perceptible marks such as sounds, scents and tastes?
- What lessons can we learn so far from the Dispute Settlement Mechanism?
- What are WTO Members' obligations as regards marks that relate to goods and services that offend religious and moral values? Are they obliged to register and protect them?
- How strict is the TRIPS Agreement as regards the use of industrial property in relation to public policies? Are private rights limitless? Are they enforceable no matter what?

The recent worldwide phenomenon of measures involving the use of trademarks to pursue public health goals through plain packaging schemes is thoroughly analyzed and evaluated.

How this will help you:

Lawyers, judges, scholars and government officials will find a wealth of information and legal analysis in this new edition, which will help them in identifying new approaches and solutions to problems of trademark and design law posed by the implementation of the TRIPS Agreement. Trips Regime of Undisclosed Information and Competition Law: Nuno Pires de Carvalho, 2007

In this brilliantly conceived and authoritative work the eminent intellectual property specialist Nuno Pires de Carvalho focuses on the mechanisms, obligations, and opportunities of trade secret protection under the Agreement on Trade-Related Aspects of Intellectual Property Rights (TRIPS). With the powerful knowledge base derived from his long experience both at the World Trade Organization (WTO) and the World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO), he illuminates the crucial relationship of antitrust and industrial property, clearly demonstrating – in contrast to much “received wisdom” – the intrinsic pro-competitive nature of intellectual property and of industrial property in particular. Using an extraordinary wealth of practical detail, and offering hundreds of pointed hypothetical and actual examples, Pires de Carvalho dispels the murkiness around such essential concepts and provisions as the following: the inevitable interdependence of industrial property and antitrust law;

- abuses of patent rights and the vexed issue of patents and monopolies;
- the legal implications of international exhaustion under Article 6;
- the meaning of “balance of rights and obligations” under Article 7;
- divestiture and the fruits doctrine under Article 32;
- international cooperation in identifying antitrust violations in licensing agreements;
- protection of confidential information in court proceedings;
- protection of undisclosed test data against unfair commercial use under Article 39.3;
- and the WTO Dispute Settlement Mechanism in the context of undisclosed information.

Of special value in this book is the author’s far-reaching analysis of the controversial emerging field of test data protection in industrial property.

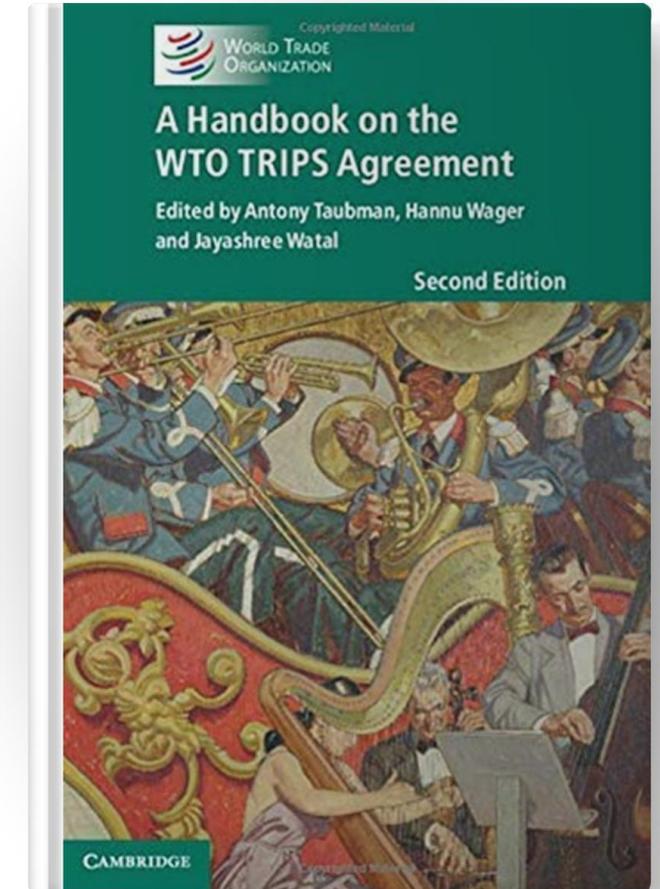

The TRIPS Regime of Antitrust and Undisclosed Information provides a practical and insightful explanation of the meaning of the relevant TRIPS provisions, of how they should be reflected in national law and how courts are expected to enforce them. It combines an easy-to-follow article-by-article commentary on the TRIPS Agreement with a theoretical scholarly analysis that makes of it an invaluable resource to all those who wish to understand industrial property rights at a deeper level. Lawyers, judges, scholars and government officials will find an abundance of information and legal analysis here that will help them identify antitrust issues and solutions to problems of trade secrets posed by the implementation of the TRIPS Agreement.
